

The Next Generation of Drivers Ed[®]

To the Parent(s) of Jane Doe:

Here is the latest progress report for Jane's last driving lesson with Drivers Ed Direct.

Lesson Overview:

On January 2, 2009, Jane and driving instructor, Russ Shuster, conducted a 2-hour Level 1 behind-the-wheel driving lesson. They performed a thorough external and internal pre-drive inspection which included an orientation of all vehicle gauges and controls, and made the necessary adjustments for a safe departure. They then proceeded to primarily focus on basic maneuvers in a residential setting. This mainly consisted of properly and safely executing the following: turning maneuvers, acceleration, traffic checks, braking, and straight line driving, parking and reversing. They also discussed driving emergencies and how to manage driving distractions.

Strengths:

- Turns
- Speed control
- Curbside parking and reversing
- Great attitude

Weaknesses:

- Slight drifting
- Traffic checks

Recommendations:

Jane performed exceptionally well for a beginner driver. She always drove within the posted speed limit and maneuvered great turns. Jane had a great attitude and was eager to learn and excel in today's lesson. I recommend that you practice with Jane every chance you get so that she continues to improve and fine tune her great driving skills. Help her practice staying well within her lane, making sure she does not drift towards parked cars on her right. You should also make sure that she conducts the required traffic checks at every single intersection. When making a traffic check she should look left, look right, and left again, making sure the path is safe to proceed.

Our team is dedicated to revolutionizing the driving school industry by using hybrid vehicles with extra safety features & environmental benefits along with a mentoring approach to teach the latest defensive driving techniques.
