

Test Drive a Hybrid Car and Meet Our Driving School Instructors

Company Info

With the help of our founding company, TrafficSchool.com, Drivers Ed Direct was launched to focus specifically on drivers education products and services along with behind-the-wheel training for beginning drivers. With over 50 years of combined traffic safety experience, Drivers Ed Direct is revolutionizing the drivers education industry with a one-of-a-kind drivers education experience. We offer an interactive online drivers education course, quality behind-the-wheel training in cars or SUVs, and we also promote environmental responsibility and awareness by training our students exclusively in vehicles that use gas-electric hybrid technology.
